Telehealth Education Delivery is coming to SLVHCS

NEW ORLEANS - Telehealth Education Delivery (TED), a mobile home-like vehicle equipped with telehealth equipment, will visit Southeast Louisiana Veterans Health Care System on Feb. 11, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The TED vehicle and team will be at the New Orleans Clinic located at 1601 Perdido Street to demonstrate how telehealth works and explain how telehealth can enhance access to VA health care.

“This event is an opportunity to educate our Veterans, especially women Veterans, about telehealth and how it can enhance their health care experience,” said Dr. Chaquetta Johnson, Women Veterans Program manager.

The TED is stocked with women Veterans health brochures and women Veteran call center cards. The Women Veterans Program staff will be on hand to answer questions related specifically to the SLVHCS women’s program.

“It is our mission at SLVHCS to honor our women Veterans by providing quality, comprehensive health care services that adequately meet their unique health care needs. We are delighted about this TED visit to our facility,” Johnson said.

“SLVHCS strives to provide the best health care anywhere and TED is an example of the great things available in VA health care,” continued Johnson.

SLVHCS is committed to providing comprehensive primary care and specialty services to all women veterans seeking care in this facility. For more information, Veterans can contact Dr. Chaquetta Johnson, DNP, MPH, WHNP-BC, Women Veterans Program manager via email at Chaquetta.johnson@va.gov or via phone at (504) 539-7429.

Veterans may also visit the website at www.womenshealth.va.gov/WOMENSHEALTH or call the women Veterans Hotline at 1-855-VA-WOMEN.
